Profile

Charlie has practised at Old Square since 2006, focusing on personal injury, clinical negligence, product liability and industrial disease cases. He has a particular specialism in costs budgeting and costs assessment matters.

Charlie has extensive trial experience and also regularly represents clients in joint settlement negotiations. He has a reputation for his ability to understand his clients' personal and commercial priorities when at Court or in conference. He presents his written and oral advice in a clear and straightforward manner, especially in cases which involve complex technical or medical evidence. Clients frequently praise his informal and unstuffy approach, and his ability to handle difficult and sensitive subject matter with both witnesses and Judges.

Charlie is a member of PIBA.
