Coronavirus Advisory Scheme

Introduction

In response to the urgent needs of our clients, Old Square Chambers is offering a Coronavirus Advisory Scheme which provides quickfire and up to date initial advice on employment law issues arising from the ongoing and developing Covid-19 pandemic.

Our specialist barristers will advise on issues including but not limited to:

- Employee Status
- Furloughing, suspension and self-isolation
- Changes to terms and conditions
- Closures and redundancies
- Protecting workers from infection
- Vulnerable workers

What are we offering?

We are offering advisory packages that cater to the needs of you and your clients. Our aim is to put you directly in touch with one of our senior employment specialists within 1 hour of making the initial enquiry and, subject to the complexity of the query, provide the advice the same day or early the following day depending on the timing of the request.

To discuss the packages on offer please contact Graham Smith (020 7269 0357) or Lee Jennings (020 7269 0303) or email covid@oldsquare.co.uk
Who are we offering the scheme to?

This scheme is presently only suitable for solicitors to access. We are pleased to advise solicitors, whether in-house or external, acting on behalf of employees/workers, employers, trade unions and professional bodies and associations.

How to access the scheme

In order to process your query within our proposed timeframes please provide your query by email using the contact details below. If you have any queries about the scheme please call one of our dedicated clerks on their direct line as detailed below.
